

Dear Mayor Daley about my name is [redacted] people in our class are smart, we've been studying Chicago, we've making a model and writing an essay.

We learned that Pusable built a trading post. Burnham's plan was to make Chicago out of steel.
We learned that a mayor is the leader of the city.

What I would want to is to make a change I would like to make more single family homes. Also I would like them low price. Then it will help people have more space and it will be low cost for people with not that much money.

It will help because there are not a lot of single family houses in the city. I never saw one near my house before, I would love to see one. It would be great.

Again, I would like you to build more single family homes. It would be useful with two floors for your family. So I would be pleased

Sincerely,
