Dear Mayor Daley,

My name is [redacted]

I am a 3rd grader at Ariel Community Academy. I like to play soccer and hockey. My class has been learning about the city of Chicago.

When learning about Chicago we've learned about 11 people, including you. Also, on the Chicago flag, there are 4 red stars, 3 white stripes and 2 blue stripes. Each symbol represents something. We've learned about the Chicago Fire of 1871, and have learned you were the mayor for the last 20 years.

My brilliant plan is to install a Global Positioning System (GPS) on every child in Chicago. But this plan will cost too much money. People will also know how to work a GPS. Also, people will need to agree if they want GPS installed on their children.

This is a benefit because parents would be more relaxed. Also, children would feel safer. Parents would be less stressed out about crimes.

Now let me tell you again, if there are GPS's installed on every child, it can bring a rainbow from your head all the way to the next century. It is really brilliant.

Sincerely,

Ariel Community Academy
