Dear Mayor Daley,

How are you doing? Fine I hope. Well, I just want to tell you about my plan. My plan is for you to stay the mayor. I want you to stay the mayor for three reasons. First, you are very nice. Secondly, you keep Chicago clean and beautiful. Thirdly, you always tell us good books to read.

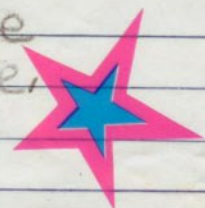

Mayor Daley, you are a nice and intelligent man. My mother, dad, and teacher loves you. Of course, I do too.

Next, you keep our city clean and sparkling. It looks better than all the rest. Lake Michigan looks like a picture on a post card!

Finally I like the books you choose, especially, A House On Mango Street. Our teacher read the book to us. We laughed a lot about it.

To conclude, I want you to be the mayor and I want the city to know it would be better because we won't have to spend money trying to find another one. Well this is my idea.

Love,
