

Dear Mr. Mayor,

The city of Chicago needs some changes. Think that in Chicago we need some more parks. Parks help people relax. It also helps people socialize, and it helps people learn about nature. This helps people take care of the environment, and nature. Finally, parks are fun places to be at and to do things at.

Another thing we should have more of in Chicago is, more trees. Trees are very important to our environment. Not only do they house animals, but they also provide us with oxygen. They also help global warnings, and they provide us with food, plus fun! Plants also provide us with air, and food.

Something else that would be in Chicago, are wind turbines. The wind turbines would help provide more wind electricity. This will help the environment and global warnings.
