What is the theme of the story?

CCSSR2—figure out a theme or lesson.

What is the theme or lesson you can learn from the story?

Theme of this story by Gary Paulsen is courage.

Which parts of the story did you use to figure that out?

One part of courage is when a moose was attacking Brian in the water and Brian almost died, and he thought of the moose that it was insane.

Another part of courage is when the tornado hit in the forest and when it took all of his tools and threw it in the water. Also it took his house that Brian made himself.

The final part of courage is when the pilot died and when the tank ran out. Then Brian had to control the plane and when the plane stopped, it fell and Brian crashed it on on a L Shape lake, and he cut himself when he crashed the plane.

Courage

A essay of hatchet

Here are some reasons why Brian has courage. First Reason is when the moose was attacking Brian. Second is when the tornado came. Finally is when the plane crashed.

My First Reason is when the moose was attacking Brian. The moose was attacking Brian in the water and broke his ribs. Then the moose was drinking water and Brian moved very slowly. Then, when Brian was getting out of the water the moose put his tail up and Brian acted like if he was dead, and then he got out of the water.

My second reason is when the tornado hit the forest. When Brian was asleep he heard a loud noise and it was a tornado. When he saw the tornado, he hid, then the tornado got all of his tools and threw it all in the water that Brian made. Brian almost got killed by the tornado.

Finally is when the plane crashed. The pilot died and when he died he had to control the plane, when he did he was pressing the buttons and he called for help. When he did the power ran out and the gas ran out, to. Then the plane fell and he crashed it in a L Shap lake.

In conclusion when the moose was attacking him, the plane crashed and when the tornado crashed. I think he learned a lesson that not to go with a pilot that will have heart attacks or anything.
