

Dear Mayor Daley,

My name is [REDACTED] I go to Lincoln school and I am in third grade. Here is a change I think you should make to make Chicago a better city.

I think you should help the current hospitals in Chicago get better. To provide better care for all patients. Poor people should get the same care as rich people because rich people could buy their own medicine and poor people don't have enough money to buy medicine.

This way, our hospitals will have good staff and enough money to provide excellent care for every patient in Chicago and everyone will be healthy.

All the city needs to do to make my plan happen is for the city to support as many hospitals as possible. It might cost a lot of money and it might take a long time, but it's worth it.

When people are sick, no one can go to work. When everyone is healthy, people can go to work. So, there will be more taxes to help support hospitals improve.

I hope you will make this change to Chicago, it will make everyone happy. And did I mention that my parents are doctors?!
