

Mood Analyzer for Stories and Paintings

Common Core Anchor Reading Standard 1. Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.

Artists and writers use techniques to give their paintings or writing a mood.

Artists use color. They use shades of colors. They use lines. They use details. They may use the title they give the painting.

Writers use words. They use details. They use sequence. They may use the title they give the story.

Tell what the mood is of a painting or story.

Then tell how the artist or writer creates that mood.

Title of the Painting or Story:

My Inference—I think the mood is _____

List things the artist or writer did to create that mood.

What the Artist or Writer Did	How It Helps Create that Mood