

Read stories carefully, then infer.

An inference is a guess you make based on what you know and what you read.

You can answer these questions about any story you read or a story you watch on TV.

After you read (or watch) the story:

What is your favorite part? Why do you like it?

What do you think happens next—after the story ends?

Why do you think that will happen?