Dear Mayor Daley,

I would like if you could read my plan to change Chicago. My plan is to lower taxes. I would like to lower taxes because some people can't pay the taxes. For example if the tax was fifty dollars you could lower it to twenty dollars. So to consider it, they would have more money to buy shoes and things for their children so they won't waste that much money and could buy more things. To carry out my plan you could lower taxes that cost too much. For example you could lower taxes of furniture, houses, and refrigerators and many other things that cost too much. And if you pick my plan people would have more money instead of less.

Sincerely,
