

List Important Details from a Nonfiction Text

CCSSR2—summarize (based on a PARCC sample)

Choose three details from the article that should be included in a summary of the passage. There are many details in any nonfiction passage, so you should evaluate the details to identify the most important three facts or examples.

List them in the order in which they should be included in the summary.

Think More

Write the summary.

Include only those three facts or examples.

Begin or end with a statement of an important idea that relates to the facts or examples.