I can compare and contrast.

Answer these questions based on a story or history or current event—or a science topic.

- How are two people alike? How are they different?
- How are two events alike? How are they different?
- How is this story like another story?
- How are two things alike? How are they different?