

Bird Addition

When you put a bird's feet together with its bill, you can tell a lot about how it lives. You can tell what it eats, where it lives, and how it moves.

Draw pictures in the boxes to show how a duck's bill and feet tell that it lives in water.

Picture of duck feet	Picture of duck bill	Picture of duck swimming
----------------------	----------------------	--------------------------

webbed feet + wide flat bill = It swims in water and it strains food out of the water.

Now, do another kind of bird. Write words that describe its feet and its bill. Then show what it looks like by drawing pictures in the boxes.

Picture of feet	Picture of bill	Picture of bird
-----------------	-----------------	-----------------

_____ + _____ = _____

And then do one more.

Picture of feet	Picture of bill	Picture of bird
-----------------	-----------------	-----------------

_____ + _____ = _____

